P&C

Recently we were asked "how do lunch orders work?" The instructions for placing your order are on the canteen menu.

Once your order is received, the canteen staff and volunteers collate all the orders, then prepare and pack each individual order ahead of the lunch break. Student's orders are placed in their class canteen box, which is transported to their classroom by class helpers, then it's time to eat!

Volunteering in the Canteen is an excellent way to see this process firsthand and lots of fun for the volunteers and their children.
